Indications for Use

This competition is for a range of products that are covered under the lot of domestic and dosed chemicals. These are cleaning chemicals and trusts should always ensure they consult the relevant departments such as housekeeping or cleaning departments as well as infection control departments if required.

User Instructions

Trusts should ensure that they refer to the cleaning instructions as per the COSHH sheets which are shown on the NHS Supply Chain website as shown under each code.

Suppliers

Lyreco UK have been awarded as the distributor for Diversey products within this area.

Sustainability

This competition has been undertaken to ensure that the prices remain static for the NHS for the next 12 months and so that one distributor is awarded sole supplier. Lyreco as a distributor themselves are a carbon neutral organisation. Diversey continue to look to reduce the amount of packing within their products and are looking to move toward dosed chemicals which will reduce excess packaging and transport from their supply chain.

Benefits

The Diversey brand is a well-known brand within the NHS cleaning marketplace and the competition seeks to assure continuation of supply at a set price and reduce unnecessary duplication from the NHS Supply Chain catalogue. All Diversey products have undergone evaluation at the launch of the cleaning framework and the products will not change as a result of the competition. The only impact for customers is assurance of set pricing for 12 months and ensuring that there is a reduction in duplication of the same products from NHS Supply Chain. Due to the fact these products are known to customers already this NCP was conducted solely on price.

Compatibility

This product is designed to be use either with cleaning supplies or on its on. Trusts should look to review the COSHH data sheets, and should they wish to obtain samples contact NHS Supply Chain who can arrange for samples to be sent.
